'Skulduggery'

In reference to The Enquirer's editorial: "Hands Off The CIA," you are to be congratulated for bringing this skulduggery to the fore for people to understand what is going on. It gives them a chance to bring pressure to bear to retain the CIA, especially since the statements of Senator Fulbright offer much encouragement to those who have a selfish purpose to satisfy.

Senator Fulbright's remarks call to mind President Truman's supposed remark calling the senator "Senator Half-Bright." Regardless of the senator's well-meaning statements, they are in fact misleading, and your article calls this to the attention of free men.
